2. Notices were issued to both parties. Pursuant to the said notice Party I filed his claim statement at Exb. 5. The Party I have claimed that their demands are fair, legal and justified and are within the financial reach and means of the Party II. The Party I have therefore prayed that their demands be granted. The Party II has filed its written statement at Exb. 6. The Party II has denied that the union has authority to espouse the dispute on behalf of the workmen. The Party II has also denied that the demands of the Party I are fair, legal and justified.

3. Based on the pleadings of both parties the following issues were framed:

- 1 Whether the Party I/union proves that it has the authority to espouse the dispute on behalf of the workers of the Party II ?
- 2 Whether the Party I/union proves that the demands raised by it against the Party II are justified ?
- 3 Whether the workmen are entitled to any relief ?
- 4 What order ?

4. The records indicate that the Party I had filed affidavit in evidence of Anand Betkikar, the General Secretary of the union. However this witness was not subjected to cross examination and consequently his affidavit cannot be looked into. The Party I has not examined any other witness and has consequently failed to prove that the union has authority to espouse the cause of the workmen or that the demands of Party I are fair, legal and justified. Hence issue No. 1 and 2 are answered in the negative.

Under the circumstances and in view of discussion supra, I pass the following order.

ORDER

It is hereby held that the demands No. 1 to 8 raised by the Party I and which are enumerated in the reference are not justified.

No order as to costs. Inform the Government accordingly.

A WARD

(Passed on this 10th day of December, 2008)

The Party I/workmen are the employees of Party II which is engaged in production of sanitary towels. These workmen were paid bonus of 8.33% for the financial year 1987-1988. The Party I had demanded grant of 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia for the accounting year ending 30-6-1988. Since the management did not consider the demands, the Party I/workmen raised an industrial dispute. The conciliation proceedings ended in failure by order dated 22-2-1990, the Government of Goa referred the following dispute to this Tribunal:

"Whether the demand for grant of 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia for the accounting year ending 30-6-88 raised by the Goa Trade and Commercial Workers Union/Christine Hoden Employees Union on the Management of M/s. Christine Hoden (India) Private Limited, Cortalim is legal and justified ?

If not, to what relief the workmen are entitled ?”

2. The Party I has filed its claim statement at Exb. 3. The Party I has stated that Party II has been making huge profits and that it had paid 20% bonus from 1982 onwards. The Party I has stated that though the payment of Bonus Act provides for the maximum bonus of 20% an agreement can always be drawn and or signed between the parties for additional payment of bonus and or ex-gratia. The Party I has stated that it has accept bonus paid for the year 1986-87 under protest. It has demanded grant of 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia for the accounting year ending 30-6-88.

3. The Party II has contested the claim of the Party I by filing its written statement at Exb. 4. The Party II has stated that acceptance of bonus, whether under protest or otherwise bars the employees from raising any dispute in connection to the bonus. The Party II has stated that its unit was running into loss since 1985. In the year 1986 it entered into a wage settlement with its employees represented by Christine Hoden Employees Union with an intention of improving industrial relations with its employees. Despite this attempt the factory runs into heavy loss. The Party II has stated that the demand of the Party I for payment of 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia is totally unjustified and liable to be rejected.

4. Based on the aforesaid pleadings, following issues were framed:

- 1 Whether the present reference is not maintainable in law, since there is no industrial dispute, as contended by Party II ?
- 2 If not, whether the Party I workmen proves that workmen are entitled to 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia for the accounting year ending 30-6-88 ?
- 3 What is due to Party I, if any ?
- 4 What order or Award ?

5. The records indicate that the Party II had not pressed for the issue No. 1 and hence the same was deleted as per the order passed on Exb. 8. Learned advocate, Shri Suhas Naik and Adv., Shri Nigalye have advanced arguments on issue No. 2. I have perused the records and considered the arguments advanced by the respective parties and my findings on the aforesaid issues are as under: Issue Nos. 2 and 3: It is not in dispute that from the year 1982 till 1986, the Party II had paid to its workmen bonus of 20% whereas for the year 1987-1988 bonus was paid at the rate of 8.33%. The Party I has claimed the Party II has been making whopping profit and as such the workers are entitled for bonus of 20% and ex-gratia of 10%. In support of this contention, the Party I has examined two workmen, namely, Dilip Naik and Smt. Philomena Fernandes. The witness No. 1 Dilip Naik has deposed that the Party II not only had market for its product throughout India, but that it was also exporting its products. He has deposed that initially the Party I had only one factory at Cortalim but subsequently it has set up factories at Hubli, Bombay and Bangalore and has also set up another factory at Cortalim. He has denied the suggestion that these other factories at Hubli, Bombay and Bangalore are not owned by the Party II. He has also denied the suggestion that Party II was running in loss and as such bonus of 8.33% was paid to the workmen.

6. The witness No. II, Filomena Rodrigues has deposed that the Party II has another factory at Cortalim, besides factories at Bombay, Hubli and Bangalore. She has also deposed that the employees are entitled for 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia. She has denied that the factories at Cortalim, Bangalore, Bombay and Hubli are not of Party II. It is to be noted that this witness has stated in the cross that the office bearers of the union had checked the files of the Party II and learned that the Party II was making huge profit. Apart from this bear statement, there is absolutely no evidence to prove that the Party I was making huge profit. The said office bearers have not deposed before this tribunal. The Party I has neither given any details of the files checked nor produced any other documentary evidence to prove that Party II was making profit.

7. It is pertinent to note that Party II has examined its Manager, Ashok Tandale. This witness has deposed that the Party II was running in loss and that during the period 1987-88, the Party II has suffered losses to the tune of Rs. 5,68,911.67. He has deposed that Party II had engaged 125 employees and wage payable to these workers during the said period was Rs. 37,47,431.85. He has produced the audit reports dated 12-3-1990, the balance net as on 30-6-88 and profit and loss account for the year ending 30-6-88 at Exb. E-1 colly. As per the said documents, no surplus was available which could be carried forward. It is pertinent to note that apart from the bare suggestion that the entries in profit and loss account at Exb. E-1 are not correct entries, there is absolutely no material on record to doubt the genuineness of the said documents at Exb. E-1 colly. These documents support the contention of the Party II that the factory was running in loss and that there was no surplus to be carried forward.

8. It is to be noted that the Party II had averred in the written statement that it is contemplating closing down the factory on account of heavy losses sustained by it. The evidence of Shri Tandale indicates that the factory has been closed since 2000 and this fact also corroborates the contention of the Party II that closure of factory was necessitated by losses sustained by it. The Party II had paid the bonus of 8.33%. In the absence of any evidence to show that the Party II had made whopping profit as alleged, the workmen are not entitled for bonus of 20% and 10% ex-gratia. Hence issue No. 1 is answered in the negative and consequently the Party I is not entitled for any dues. Issue No. 3 is answered accordingly.

Under the circumstances and in view of discussion supra, I pass the following order.

ORDER

The demand of the Party I for 20% bonus and 10% ex-gratia is held to be unjustified and illegal. Hence Party I workmen are not entitled for any relief.

Inform the Government accordingly.
